

NEWS ADVISORY

February 23, 2009

The Philippine Overseas Employment Administration invites job applicants, especially those who were displaced from their jobs as a result of the global financial crisis to a jobs fair on February 25 as part of the celebration of the 23rd Anniversary of EDSA Revolution.

Administrator Jennifer Jardin-Manalili said hundreds of overseas jobs await qualified applicants for positions that include engineers, forklift operators, painters, shift supervisors, nurses, waiters, waitresses, receptionists, firefighters, crew members, electricians, technicians, welders, laborers, accountants, administrative assistants, clerks, butchers, carpenter, trainee, domestic helpers, engineers, architects, secretaries, timekeepers, re-barmen, riggers, pipefitters, operator, drivers, foremen, optical/x-ray technicians, auto painters, salesmen, lab assistant, managers, cooks, cashiers, factory workers, controller clerks, designers, draftsmen, scaffolding charge hands, chef, hotel crew, staff workers, servers, account/marketing executives, sales executives, analysts, upholsterers, timekeepers, site technicians, crane operators, and seafarers.

Manalili invited twenty-one (21) licensed recruitment agencies, which deploy OFWs to UAE, Qatar, Saudi Arabia, Sudan, Australia, Canada, Hongkong, Singapore, Bahrain, Israel, Cyprus, Taiwan, Kuwait, and Marshall Island, to join the jobs fair. ###